

"Temporary Irritation or Enduring Crisis? Exploring the Deep Structure of the Transatlantic Relationship post-9/11"

*2nd Meeting of the Transatlantic Study Group
The Intercultural Center's Executive Conference Room (7th floor)
Georgetown University
June 24 – 26, 2004*

*BMW Center for German and European Studies, Georgetown University
Mortara Center for International Studies, Georgetown University,
Center for Transatlantic Foreign and Security Policy, Free University Berlin*

The conference organizers would like to thank the American Consortium of European Union Studies (EU Center, Washington DC) for its generous support, which has made this meeting possible.

Friday, June 25th

8:30 AM

Breakfast

9:00 AM

Panel 1: Theoretical and Historical Frames

- John Ikenberry (Georgetown University), Overview
- William Hitchcock (Wellesley College), "The Ghost of Crises Past: The Paradoxical Strength of the Atlantic Alliance"

10:30 AM

Break

10:45 AM

Panel 2: Values and Politics

- John Hall (McGill University), "Transatlantic Images of Belonging"

12:15 PM

Lunch

1:00 PM

Panel 3: Economics

- Jens van Scherpenberg (Stiftung Wissenschaft und Politik), "No Superglue: Trade and the Risk of Disruption in Transatlantic Relations"
- Kathleen McNamara (Georgetown University), "The Ties that Bind? Economic Interests and the Transatlantic Relationship"

3:00 PM

Break

3:15 PM

Panel 4: Security Issues

- Henry Nau (George Washington University), "Divided over Threat not Values: Different Visions of Transatlantic Relations"
- Günther Hellmann (Goethe-Universität Frankfurt), "Redefining the Transatlantic Security Communities: The US and Europe Drifting Along"
- Charles Kupchan (Georgetown University), "The End of Alliance and Security Community? Reconceptualizing the Atlantic Zone of Peace"

5:45 PM

End of conference proceedings, Day I

Saturday, June 26th

9:00 AM

Breakfast

9:30 AM

Panel 5: Law and Institutions

- Michael Byers (University of British Columbia), "Fundamental Differences: Europe, the United States, and the Sources of International Law"
- Jeff Anderson (Georgetown University), "The Sovereign Underpinnings of the Transatlantic Crisis"

11:30 AM

Break

11:45 AM

Presentation of Conclusion, Closing Discussion (Working lunch)

- Thomas Risse (Freie Universität Berlin)
- commentary by Dr. Ingo Peters and invited graduate students

1:00 PM

End of conference proceedings, Day II